

A Tribe Called Dad

Kids & Family Podcasts

A Tribe Called Dad is a place for like-minded Father's living in this day and age to share knowledge and relate to each other about all things Dad. We are your hosts, DJ Hapa & DJ Spider from Los Angeles and we give you a peek into our lives as Dads and DJs, along with our weekly Top 3 lists about all types of crazy #DadLife topics. We answer letters from the listeners, come up with Dad Hacks and tell stories about our hilarious children.

Finding great childcare with Erin McConaghy of Curated Care - 3/8/2020

What should you look for in a child care professional? A lot of dads, including myself, lean on their wives to steer this category of decision making, but I think we as dads NEED to be involved with this. For the first time in ATCD history, we have a mom-preneur on as a guest (Erin McConaghy, Founder of Curated Care) to share some of her tips and to tell us more about their service of pairing artists with families looking for "cooler kid experts".
